IT'S A BRAND NEW DAY

The first thing to know is crying over spilled milk now will do no good to us. We all know about the current situation.

Only thinking about the dark side of it, is not a solution. Every cloud has a silver lining so does this situation have. Thinking of this situation coming to an end makes me feel like I am on cloud nine. The first day after this Covid-19 pandemic will be a complete new beginning. I will try my best not to leave any stone unturned.

"Oh my gosh! Is this true or am I still dreaming?" will be my first reaction.

Thinking of how much can I fit in 24-hours of time makes me feel exhausted already.

The first thing I can say is for sure I will not be at home at any cost.

I am great foodie for sure so obviously I will go to my favourite restaurant and eat until my stomach says, "No more now." Then

I will meet my best friend whom I am dying to meet. I don't think our talks are going to end. It is going to take forever for our talks to end. I would go for shopping and watch a popcorn movie.

Travelling is life for me. I can't seriously stand being home for too long. I would fly to Dubai and enjoy there as if it is my last day. Going on a long drive would be the best thing I can imagine right now. I would go to the beach and find a perfect spot to sit with family and friends and include a lot of laughter too.

I would probably just throw up a big party at the best hotel in Dubai and celebrate a new life. The most important thing I would do would be meet my grandmom. I will go skydiving, rafting, bungee jumping and dancing on the streets. I will not think about what others think but just be the way I want to as if I am the only one who exists and it's only me, me, me who I have to think about.

I am sure I could add a lot more and my list is never ending list but 24-hours is too less. For a perfect ending I would go for a moon watch from the highest point. Doing all of this for sure I will get dolled up and for each event a new look would make up a perfect day for me.
